|  | C   | Did you have to do this?                           |
|  | C   | I was thinking that you could be trusted           |
|  | g   | Did you have to ruin what was shiny?               |
|  | G   | Now it's all rusted                                |
|  | C   | Did you have to hit me where I'm weak?             |
|  | C   | Baby, I couldn't breathe                           |
|  | g   | And rub it in so deep                              |
|  | G   | Salt in the wound like you're laughin' right at me |
|  | C   | Oh, it's so sad to                                 |
|  | C   | Think about the good times                         |
|  | g G | You and I  |
