1.     $\flat$  A G A     $\flat$                     A                    G                    A
          help I lost myself again
           $\flat$  A G                     $\flat$                     A                    G
          but I remember you
           $\flat$  A G A                     $\flat$                     A                    G                    A
          don't come back it won't end well
           $\flat$  A G                     $\flat$                     A                    G
          but I wish you'd tell me to
- Ref:     $\parallel$      $\flat$  A                     $\flat$                     A
          our love is six feet under
          G A                    G                    A
          I can't help but wonder
           $\flat$  A e                     $\flat$                     A                    e
          if our grave was watered by the rain
          G  $\flat$                     G                     $\flat$
          would roses bloom?
          G  $\flat$  A                    G                     $\flat$                     A
          could roses bloom?
          G                    G
          again
2.     $\flat$  A G A                     $\flat$                     A                    G                    A retrace my lips erase your touch
           $\flat$  A G                     $\flat$                     A                    G
          it's all too much for me
           $\flat$  A G A                     $\flat$                     A                    G                    A blow away like smoke in air
           $\flat$  A G                     $\flat$                     A                    G
          how can you die carelessly
- Ref:     $\parallel$      $\flat$  A                     $\flat$                     A
          our love is six feet under
          G A                    G                    A
          I can't help but wonder
           $\flat$  A e                     $\flat$                     A                    e
          if our grave was watered by the rain
          G  $\flat$                     G                     $\flat$
          would roses bloom?
          G  $\flat$                     G                     $\flat$
          could roses bloom?
- G A  $\flat$                     G                    A                     $\flat$
          they're playin us out, layin us down tonight
          G A  $\flat$                     G                    A                     $\flat$
          and all of these clouds cryin us back to life
          A G                    A                    G
          but you're cold as a knife
- ...
